CLEANING HELP SOUGHT FOR BETWEEN THE SERVICES

From February 14, we are required to clean (spray-and-wipe) all of the touch surfaces in the church between services – the wood of the pews, door-handles and lectern top. If you would be prepared to join a volunteer roster for this, that would be much appreciated. Please let Jacqui in the office know, by email or phone: frankstonuc@gmail.com; 9783 3400.

David, Mandy and Meg are all members of Synod this year, which is meeting over this weekend (over zoom). Please pray for the meeting. There are proposals about

The Synod also has the responsibility of discerning who will take on the role of Moderator beginning at the 2022 Synod meeting, for which David is one of the three nominees. Please pray for David as all of this gets worked through. The results are expected to be known by Sunday morning.

7 MARCH CONTEMPORARY SERVICE

(NB: This information supersedes that in High Street Times)

On Sunday 7 March the Contemporary service will join in an act of service for Clean Up Australia Day. We will meet at 10:40am at the Frankston Pier, in front of Sofias. We will be met by Peter Talbot, of the Frankston Beach Patrol, who will tell us about what to expect and safety requirements. Please bring your own (gardening) gloves and tongs if you can, though some will be available on the day, as will rubbish bags. Those with mobility considerations can bring a chair and provide moral support, and hand out flyers to passers-by. We'll clean for about an hour, sort and weigh the rubbish, and then we're invited to head to a café with other members of the team.

There will be a sign-up sheet in the foyer this week, or email David to confirm your attendance – please indicate if you will come for the cleaning and/or for the café (Trims, in Plane Street) afterwards.

Those on ZOOM can also join us – we'll live stream at least the first part of the action, and ground our work in prayer and the care of God's creation. You can clean up in your own neighbourhood if you can't join in at the beach – just please ensure that you do so safely.

Annual General Meeting

The Congregational AGM will be held on THURSDAY 25 MARCH AT 7:30PM, over ZOOM and phones.

Elections for Elders and Church Council will be held on Sunday 21 March. Nominations for new Elders or Church Councillors (or re-nomination of those whose terms conclude this year) will be due to the church office

BY SUNDAY 7 MARCH.

The Elders and Church Councillors due for re-nomination this year are:

Elders: Naomi Briggs, Rona Russell, Jill Cayzer

Church Council: Kerry Pederick, Marg Scarlett, Juli Lincoln

Next week we will publish a full list of current Elders and Church Councillors, indicating when their terms are due to end. Next week we will also publish a full list of "confirmed members of the congregation" according to our records (from among whom the Elders and Church Councillors are elected).

Reports for the AGM will be due on Sunday 7 March.
